

It was well known by them that every Republican in the Legislature would vote against so monstrous a law, as placing in the hands of irresponsible election-judges the absolute right to reject the vote of any citizen "who claimed to be a white man." But they hoped by showing the vote of the Republicans against this tyrannical and unconstitutional enactment, to make the ignorant and prejudiced believe that at least the Republican members voted for "negro suffrage." And this poor, sucking, milk-

A DEMOCRATIC TRIUMPH.—Everything is not lost to the Democracy. The mails bring the intelligence of the triumphant election of Mr. H. Hooper as delegate to Congress from Salt Lake—the city of the "Latter Day Saints." Mr. Hooper is one of the Elders of Mormonism, a firm believer in polygamy, a zealous advocate of slavery, and an enthusiastic Democrat of the Buchanan persuasion. There was a warm contest between Hooper and a Gentle, but Democracy, slavery, polygamy, and Mormonism, in a loving union won an easy victory. Why don't our Democratic friends get up a torch-light procession?

Your truly, AMATEUR.

Atheus, Oct. 22, 1859.

It is with extreme pleasure that we welcome to our columns the above communication, and give the desired information. We must premise that owl knowledge of the game is theoretical merely, x-v-x having engaged in the actual play. We have no doubt however that we can give our friends in Athens who wish to engage in the "noble sport," such directions as will enable them to appear x-y-z responsibly on the day above named.

The game is made up of any number of contestants from eighteen to forty-two on a side, with officers corresponding in grade stitution were made expressly to protect, build up, sanctify and make perpetual and universal the "Divine Institutions" of slave-trading and whisky-selling? And is it not equally apparent that whoever opposes either "institution" is a "fanatic," an "infidel," a "disunionist," and an enemy of the country?

annance, for 1863, was prepared by one of the first agriculturists of this or any other country—Professor O. M. Mitchell, of the Ohio Observatory. Scattered through it are items on rural affairs, from the pen of Mr. Haselrine, President of the Cincinnati Horticultural Society. This would seem to be a decided advance on the old almanac style, in the indispensable article of finances, with which the community have been wearied for the last dozen years.

We presume that most of our enterprising agriculturists have Dr. Roback's medicines and almanacs. Dr. Roback's office is at No. 6 East Fourth street.

[illegible]

HATS, CAPS AND BONNETS.
At wholesale, warranted uniform in quality.
A. S. P. TANNER,
No 56 Wood Street.
BUTTSBURGH.
Invites the attention of the civil and military authorities generally, to his very large assortment of Hats, Caps, Bonnets, &c. purchased from the New England Manufacturers, which are of all styles, early and durable, and constant from all parts of the world, and in the hands of all persons, is not surprised in this or any other city, to find him as well as those of Philadelphia or New York.
Persons desiring an examination of this superior stock, are invited to call on him at his residence, No. 56 Wood Street, where he will be pleased to have them particularly attended to, and be faithfully executed.

This image shows a vertical strip of a document page. The left side is a dark, textured binding edge, while the right side is a lighter, possibly damaged or stained, area. The overall appearance is that of a scan of a physical document.